

ShotsByDunz Website Your New Home Online

A website proposal for ShotsByDunz and SBD Booths, prepared by YAGIL Digital Studio.

The vision

YAGIL Digital Studio is designing a website with one main job: turning people who love your work into people who book you.

Right now your best videos are spread across Instagram and TikTok, and bookings start in your DMs with a lot of back-and-forth. Dates, locations and budgets get lost. Your photobooth business gets buried under your videography, and you explain your deposit and cancellation rules one person at a time.

Your new website fixes all of that. It works for you 24/7: it shows off your work, answers the common questions for you, and sends you booking requests that are ready to quote while you're out shooting.

What this website will do for you

- Look as good as your footage. A bold, cinematic design where your videos are the star from the very first second.
- Bring you better bookings. Every request arrives with the date, location, event type, service and hours already filled in.
- Give SBD Booths its own stage. Your photobooth business gets a dedicated page you can share on its own.
- Save you time. Clear answers about travel, turnaround, deposits and raw footage mean fewer repeat questions.
- Stay fresh without us. You can add new videos, packages and answers yourself, anytime, from your phone or laptop.

How we'll know it's working

In the first three months after launch, we'll look for:

- More visitors tapping "Book Me" than you currently get DM inquiries.
- Every booking request arriving complete, with no chasing for details.
- A steady share of requests coming in for SBD Booths.
- The site loading quickly on phones, where most of your audience will find you.

What your visitors will experience

We designed the site around the four kinds of people most likely to book you.

Who's visiting	What they're looking for	What wins them over
Someone hosting a party or event	Proof you've shot events like theirs	Similar event videos, clear packages, the booth as an add-on
A couple planning their wedding	Beautiful wedding films and peace of mind	Reviews from past couples, clear deposit and cancellation terms
A creator or personal brand	Reels and content that match their style	Short-form examples, quick turnaround, monthly content packages
An event planner or venue	A reliable vendor they can recommend	Both services in one place, a fast way to request a quote

The journey, start to finish

1. They land and instantly see your work. A short highlight reel plays the moment the page opens.
2. They find videos like their event. One tap filters your work to weddings, birthdays, brands and more.
3. Their questions are already answered. Services, prices and a friendly FAQ remove the doubts that stop people booking.
4. They tap "Book Me." The button is always visible, on every page, on every phone.
5. You get a complete request. Everything you need to send a quote lands in your inbox, and they get a thank-you message so they know you've got it.

The look and feel

- A dark, cinematic style that makes your videos pop.
- Big, confident headlines and plenty of breathing room.
- Written in your voice: warm, confident and a little playful, so visitors feel like they already know Dunz.
- SBD Booths shares the same style with a brighter, party-ready twist, so it feels like part of the family but stands on its own.

A tour of your website

Your site has eight pages. Each one has a clear job, and every one of them leads to "Book Me."

Home: your first impression

- A highlight reel playing the moment someone arrives.
- A bold line that says who ShotsByDunz is and what you shoot.
- A short, friendly intro with your photo.
- Quick cards for each service, plus a stand-out card for SBD Booths.
- A handful of your best videos, hand-picked by you.
- Kind words from past clients and a peek at your Instagram.
- A simple "how it works": Inquire, Plan, Shoot, Deliver.
- A final nudge to book before your dates fill up.

About: the person behind the camera

- Your story: how you started and what drives you.
- Who Dunz is, where you're based and where you'll travel.
- Your approach, in three simple ideas (for example: real storytelling, candid moments, fast delivery).
- A little personality: fun facts, your gear, a behind-the-scenes clip of you at work.

Services: what you offer

Each service gets its own page with a video example, what's included, who it's perfect for, how fast you deliver, a "starting from" price and a button to book that exact service.

Service	What the client walks away with
Event videography	A highlight film of their event, with a full-length version available
Personal brand and social content	A steady batch of ready-to-post videos, per shoot or monthly
Behind-the-scenes coverage	Vertical clips that show what happens behind a shoot, launch or performance
Highlight videos	A short, shareable recap, delivered within 5–7 days
Reels and short-form	Scroll-stopping vertical videos made for Instagram and TikTok
Custom packages	A plan built around exactly what they need

Optional extras clients can add: raw footage (from $30 for a single clip) and an SBD Booth bundle. These are easy ways to raise the value of every booking.

Portfolio: your work, beautifully organized

- Every video in one place, filterable by Events, Weddings, Birthdays, Personal Brands, Lifestyle and Behind the Scenes.

- Wide films and vertical reels both look right on any screen.
- Your favourite projects can get their own story page: the event, the vision, the final video and what the client said, with a "Book something like this" button.

SBD Booths: your photobooth business

Its own dedicated page, covered in detail in the next section.

Book Me: your booking form

A simple, step-by-step form that gathers everything you need to quote. More on this below.

FAQ: answers before they ask

Friendly answers grouped by topic, so visitors can find what they need in seconds:

- Booking: How far ahead should I book? What's the deposit? What if I need to cancel or reschedule?
- Coverage: Do you travel? How many hours do I need? Can you work alongside my photographer?
- Delivery: How long until I get my video? How will I receive it? Do you offer raw footage?
- Creative: Do I need to pick music? Can I share ideas or references? How many changes are included?
- SBD Booths: How much space does it need? Is someone there to run it? How do guests get their photos?

Contact: for everything else

Your email, phone, Instagram, TikTok, service area and hours. On a phone, visitors can call or text you in one tap. A short message form handles quick questions, kept separate from bookings.

SBD Booths: a business of its own

SBD Booths gets a dedicated page that works like its own mini-website.

You can share it on its own with planners, venues and party hosts, and it can win bookings even from people who aren't looking for video.

What's on the page

- A lively opening. Video of the booth in action and a "Check availability" button.
- Everything guests love:
 - Digital booth: guests get their photos instantly by text, email or scanning a code.
 - Unlimited prints all night.
 - A guest book full of photos and messages to keep forever.
 - Custom keychains as take-home keepsakes.
 - Prints designed to match the event's theme, names or logo.
- Perfect for: weddings, birthdays, corporate events, graduations, baby showers and brand launches.
- Simple packages. Your two packages side by side, Digital Experience (from $350) and Unlimited Prints Experience (from $450), plus add-ons like extra hours, keychains and guest books. Choosing one takes the visitor straight to the booking form with that package already selected.
- Photo and video gallery of the booth at real events.
- How it works: setup time, how much space it needs, and a friendly attendant on site.
- Video + Booth bundle. A special price when clients book both, turning one sale into two.

Why this matters for your business. Every videography client is a potential booth client, and every booth client is a potential videography client. Giving each its own spotlight, while linking them together, helps both sides grow.

Booking made easy

The "Book Me" form replaces the back-and-forth in your DMs. It feels quick for the client, and it gives you everything you need to send a quote in your first reply.

Four short steps

Step	What we ask
1. About you	Name, email, phone, and how they prefer to be contacted
2. Your event	Date, start time, location, type of event, and guest count (for booth bookings)
3. What you need	Services, package (if they already picked one), number of videos, hours of coverage, and any extras
4. The details	Their ideas and special requests, links to videos they love, budget (optional), how they found you, and agreement to your deposit and cancellation terms

Why clients will actually finish it

- It's broken into small steps with a progress bar, so it never feels long.
- If they came from a service or booth package, that choice is already filled in for them.
- Only the essentials are required; everything else is optional.
- It works smoothly on a phone.

What happens after they hit submit

- The client sees a thank-you message telling them when to expect your reply.
- They get a confirmation email, so they know their request landed.
- You get an email with every detail neatly laid out, ready for you to quote.
- Every request is saved in one list, so nothing gets lost in your inbox.
- Spam and fake requests are filtered out automatically.

Coming later

- Your booked dates show as unavailable, so people don't request days you can't take.
- Clients can pay their deposit online once they accept your quote.

What you get behind the scenes

The parts visitors never see are what keep the site working hard for you long after launch.

- You're in control. Add new videos, change prices, update packages, edit FAQ answers or post a new review yourself, anytime. No need to call us for small changes.
- Built for phones first. Most of your audience will find you through Instagram and TikTok on their phones, so every page is designed for a phone screen first.
- Fast, even with lots of video. Your videos are set up to load quickly, so people don't leave before they see your work.
- Easy to find on Google. When someone searches for an event videographer or photobooth rental in your area, the site is set up to help you show up.
- Looks great when shared. Links sent in DMs or texts show a proper preview image and title, not a blank box.
- Welcoming to everyone. Readable text, captions on talking videos and a layout that works for people with different abilities.
- Know what's working. You'll see how many people visit, which videos they watch and how many tap "Book Me," so you know what's bringing you business.
- Safe and trusted. A secure site and a clear privacy policy, so clients feel comfortable sharing their details.

Your terms and conditions

Your terms get their own page on the site. Clients must tick a box agreeing to them before they send a booking request. The page covers deposits, rescheduling, revisions, copyright, watermarks, on-site readiness and song choices (up to 2 songs). The booking form also asks for song choices and a shooting schedule, so you get them upfront.

How we'll get there

From kickoff to launch takes about seven to eight weeks, with you involved at every key moment.

Stage	What happens	Time
1. Getting to know your brand	We gather your logo, videos and story, and pick the best work to feature	1 week
2. Design	You see how every page will look, on a phone and a computer, and give feedback	2 weeks
3. Build	We bring the designs to life, including the booking form and SBD Booths page	2–3 weeks
4. Polish	We add all your videos and words, then test everything on different phones and computers	1 week
5. Launch	Your site goes live and we update your Instagram and TikTok links	2 days
6. Grow	We add the extras over time: online deposits, blocked-off dates, more project stories	Ongoing

What we still need from you

- ☐ How far ahead clients must book: your terms say 48 hours and your reply says 72 hours. Which applies to video and which to booths?
- ☐ Booth rescheduling and cancellation rules, and whether the 50% booth deposit is refundable.
- ☐ Your "starting from" price for each video service.
- ☐ Your ShotsByDunz Instagram and TikTok handles, and whether +1 548 468 2830 is the number for both brands.
- ☐ Do you offer drone footage or a second shooter?
- ☐ Your logo, brand colours and fonts for both brands, and your best videos (or raw clips for a highlight reel).
- ☐ 3 to 5 client reviews, and permission to feature their videos.
- ☐ Your website name (for example, shotsbydunz.com), if you already own one.

Next steps

1. Review this plan and share any changes or ideas.
2. Send over the items above, even partially, so we can start.
3. We'll book a kickoff call and begin designing your new home online.
